

TERRORBULL GAMES

ANTI-Christmas

The War on Terror continues, but the name is barely uttered. The military occupation of Iraq, the 4 million refugees there, the tens of thousands of civilian deaths in Afghanistan, the expansion of the war into Pakistan, the use of illegal assassinations by unmanned drones ... We consider this all so normal that it is scarcely worthy of even the back pages; this is the forgotten war. So how about putting a downer on everything this Christmas with our anti-decorations and remind everyone that we're still in the middle of a suspect war that started 8 years ago.

Guaranteed to make your mum sad.

2

1

3

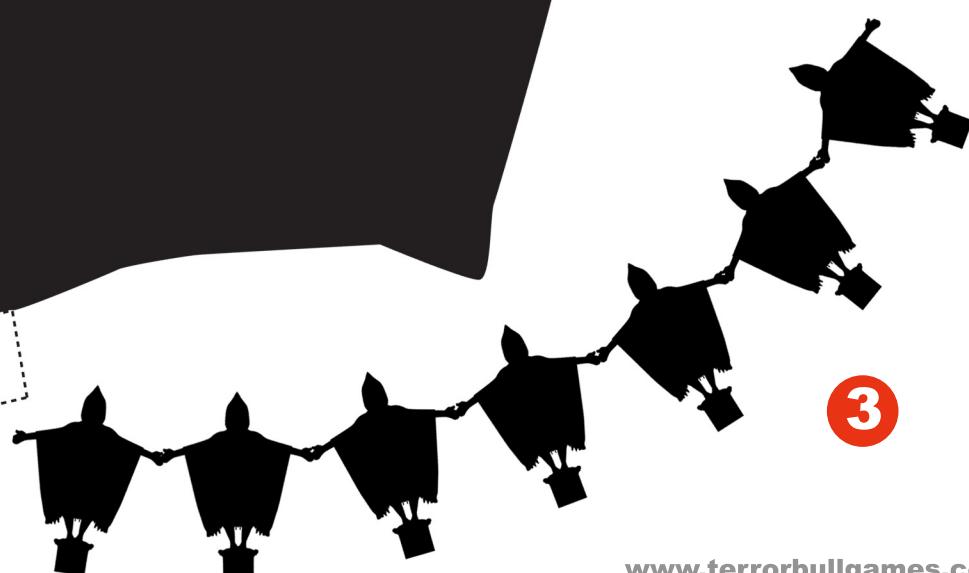

1

2

3

GLUE HERE

(A)

(A)